Of Hendricks County

The revenues raised each year from the Dave Kiebach Memorial Golf Tournament continue the David H. Kiebach Smile Fund, which is used by the Hendricks County Community Foundation to help local causes and organizations treat the needs of the community's children. Those needs may include children who are hungry, lack clothing, have healthcare needs or need funds for advanced education.

This past year, two charities, specifically, benefited from the Kiebach Smile Fund. They are Susie's Place in Avon, a child advocacy center that investigates suspected child abuse or neglect, and Strides for Success, a rehabilitation riding center for troubled teens.

Kiebach Known as Sportsman, Businessman, Family Man

Dave Kiebach was a competitor in sports and in business. He played golf and basketball, rode horseback, hunted, fished, swam and boated.

He was longtime friend and partner with Mark Sell in founding and building MD Logistics, Inc. since 1996, and establishing MD Express and MD Packaging subsequently. In addition, he and Sell cemented a strategic partnership with SEKO Worldwide in 2002. In 2006, MDL was named 13th Fastest-Growing private company in Central Indiana by the Indianapolis Business Journal, based on percentage growth in revenue over a three-year period.

Kiebach's global logistics experience had been developed between 1982 and 1996 with CF Airfreight (Indianapolis and Los Angeles), TNT Express (Los Angeles), American Airlines (Los Angeles), and LEP International (Los Angeles and Indianapolis).

Kiebach earned bachelor of science degrees in journalism and marketing from Ball State University in 1982.

Most of all, Kiebach was a family man, known to dote on his wife Diana and two children, their daughter, MacKenzie, and son, Sean.

Kiebach died unexpectedly on November 5, 2007, of massive coronary failure.
